Protocol to the African Charter on Human and People's Rights on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (ADP)

Capacitate WYC, CSOs leaders, leaders with influence and LAT members in advocacy, lobbying and campaigning for ratification of the ADP.

A. Summary

Historically, people with disabilities, as organisations and individuals and particularly women with disabilities, have managed to place disability on the human rights and development agenda in various global, regional and national platforms. Treaties that are relevant to the rights of women, youth and children (WYC) include:

- a. The Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights on the Rights of Women in Africa of 11 July 2003,
- b. The African Youth Charter of 2 July 2006
- c. The African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child of 11 July 1990,
- d. The African Charter on Democracy, Elections and Governance of 30 January 2007, and
- e. The African Union Convention for the Protection and Assistance of Internally Displaced Persons in Africa 23 October 2009.

The AU's Agenda 2063's vision of "An integrated, prosperous and peaceful Africa, driven by its own citizens and representing a dynamic force in global arena” is relevant to the idea of women-youth-led campaigns to ratify the ADP. Aspiration 6 states that the goal is to achieve an Africa whose development is people-driven, relying on the potential of African people, especially its women and youth, and caring for children.

Historically, women with disabilities (WWD) have had fewer opportunities and exposure to leadership positions than men or able-bodied women do. Women often feel intimidated by the political, economic and social system and are hesitant to participate. Youth, particularly the girls, continue to be marginalised, despite being the majority in Africa.

There is poor targeting and inclusion of women, youth and children in all stages of the policy value chain such as the development, adoption and ratification/ domestication of treaties. If WYC are to benefit from the domestication and implementation of treaties, they must be included and take leadership roles at all stages of the policy value chain including early and later stages of the policy value chain from formulation, adoption, ratification, domestication, implementation, monitoring and evaluation phases.

Project Description

The Africa Disability Alliance (ADA) has secured funding support from GIZ to implement a project entitled The ADP Ratification through Women-led Advocacy (ARWA). The Project focuses on women-led targeted advocacy for AU member states to accelerate the ratification of the Africa Disability Protocol (ADP).

Project Objective

To increase participation and leadership by girl-children, young women, and women with disabilities in the ADP's ratification, decision-making and policy-implementation processes in eight targeted AU member countries.

Problem Statement

The Africa Disability Protocol requires 15 ratifications to come into force. Ten countries had ratified the ADP by 21/09/2023. The continental and country-level ratification campaigns are dominated by male-led organisations of persons with disabilities (OPDs), often leaving women and girl-children behind, placing them at risk of being marginalised during domestication and implementation at the country level.

Overall Objective and Impact

The project will contribute to women's, youth's, and children's (collectively referred to as WYC) increased participation and leadership in ADP-related ratifications, decisions, and policy implementation.

Indicator: Eighty WYC from eight targeted countries actively participate and provide leadership in the ratification, decisions, and policymaking, related to the ADP in eight AU member States.

Objective 1:

WYC increase their participation and leadership, through ARWA Project, for the ratification, decisions, and policy implementation of the ADP in eight targeted AU member countries.

Indicator 1.1:

Increased participation of 80 WYC and 40 female leaders in positions of power /influence/ politics/ economics/ development, judiciary, legislative, sectors, media, and others support the ratification of the Protocol in the targeted countries that have not ratified the ADP.

Outputs and indicators

Output 1:

At least five continental/regional and forty national WYC organisations/ wings advocacy/ leadership structures from eight countries are empowered to conduct effective advocacy and campaigning for the ratification, decisions, and policy implementation in targeted countries that have not ratified the Africa Disability Protocol.

The Africa Disability Alliance (ADA) calls for proposals to map stakeholders and use of good practice in advocacy and campaigning for ratification of treaties/ADP. Key stakeholders will be WYC in international and national organisations located in the targeted countries.
